

We are an outerwear company and we take pride in partnering with various charitable organizations to provide quality coats and jackets to those who are less fortunate. Our outreach work has placed us in contact with a broad spectrum of the population ranging from; poverty stricken children, to vulnerable seniors. Our company recognizes that there are many areas of need amongst the various populations we service. This has led to our broadened involvement in assisting charitable organizations in anticipating the needs of unfortunate families. Some of the various services we have partnered in include; providing meals for the homebound, preparing homes for single moms returning after childbirth and helping seniors acclimate themselves to their homes after a hospital stay. At Polar Ice we have made spreading warmth our foundation.